

DEPART Show Report 4

21st May 2017, Hull

Show Start: 21.13

Show End: 22.49

Audience numbers: 250

Weather: Clear and Dry

A very good show overall, a nice one to end our Hull run.

Action Points in Bold

Performers	In the first pole performance Todd missed a catch at the bottom of the pole and landed on his shoulder. He finished the complete show with modification and was icing the area after the show. He'll continue circa incident management procedure and we'll update on his health over the next 2 days.
Guides	Audience split worked much better with Kim assisting Michael. Group A was very slow again, speeding them up while slowing group B managed to keep the distance between the groups. Kim/Carmel assisted group A this evening. No reports of falls or slips in the audience, the extra hazard warning at the start, mud moving and cones out seems to have worked.
Choir	A really good range and texture from the choir this evening, very nice work. Seven choir lanterns didn't make it back to their boxes and couldn't be found anywhere at the school. Potentially have been taken as momentos?
LX	Finale LX: The artists had some small challenges with the LX this eve. It was more challenging for them to 'see' than usual. There are a couple of state change timings to check in on.
Sound	Dave can we make sure we either remember to repeat the Front of House music when it runs out or perhaps make a longer track?
Rigging	No issues.
Stage Management	Torch lighting and projectors all fine. Some strategic slowing and speeding of audiences required particularly around Glade of Repose area. Security incident at Glade of Repose slowed Group B sufficiently to restore good spacing between groups, Group A still arriving at the Finale before B though.
Costume	Chinese pole costumes came back from the laundrette still damp again. Put them through the dryer at the school and used hand dryers to make them ready in time for the show
Site	Lots of mud around still from yesterday, although dried a little over the course of the day. Measures taken including a more detailed hazard briefing at the start of the show, small cones placed around the worst areas and scraping away of mud, no slips or issues reported during the show. Security incident, drunk men found on site mid show. Security were slow to respond – in future we need to ensure they have a copy of our map and know the names and locations we are using. Also need to more fully

	brief them in future about our radio channel use , security and other incident calls to be made on a separate channel to show call unless a show stop is necessary.
Crew	All ok. Giving cue for lights behind Nancy over radio has proved most effective at this site. Get out went well, site and school cleared by 02:00.
