Q2 What would success look like to you at the end of 'A Sight to Behold' project?

Answered: 30 Skipped: 1

#	RESPONSES	DATE
1	Making people more aware of different sight conditions. Gaining more confidence.	11/20/2017 10:45 AM
2	Realising what I can do rather than what I can't. Meeting other people in a similar position makes me feel more confident.	11/20/2017 10:44 AM
3	Something that's accessible for all that I've been a part of along with like minded people.	11/20/2017 10:43 AM
4	Satisfaction from people involved and happiness on faces as pleased at what they have done.	11/20/2017 10:42 AM
5	More awareness for the general public to know how to provide good eye health	11/20/2017 10:41 AM
6	Success would be everyone working together + having input on a final piece	11/20/2017 10:40 AM
7	Something to be proud of and involved in with like minded people	11/20/2017 10:39 AM
8	Having a tactile piece of Art in the hospital.	11/20/2017 10:34 AM
9	I managed to take part and create something artistic! Meeting different people + getting ideas from them.	11/20/2017 10:33 AM
10	1. We would produce a work of art which people would stop to look at and perhaps touch. It would in some way relate to sight loss but have a wider meaning or message. It would be good enough not to arouse pity. It would speak equally, but perhaps differently, to people with and without experience of sight loss. 2. The participants in the project would learn new skills, develop their creativity and have fun	11/20/2017 10:32 AM
11	Very happy, cherish the memory feel an achievement I will have got muscles it's a work out working with clay	11/20/2017 10:29 AM
12	A big achievement, feel proud of myself and proud to be part of the team.	11/20/2017 10:27 AM
13	Still alive, young, clean with a full tummy but my arm will ache and I will have muscles like Arnold Schwarzenegger I will cherish the memory, love you all.	11/20/2017 10:26 AM
14	Happiness	11/20/2017 10:24 AM
15	Meeting people + creating a successful finished piece of artwork.	11/20/2017 10:24 AM
16	Belonging to a group and being involved in this project, and designing things to benefit others has made me feel creative. Something I would not have done at home. This is success to me.	11/20/2017 10:23 AM
17	Taken me somewhere I never thought I would go. Meeting people with sight problems, + doing something I'd never done before.	11/20/2017 10:22 AM
18	Being part of the group + being involved in a bigger project	11/20/2017 10:20 AM
19	Enjoyed being part of a group + being involved in a bigger project	11/20/2017 10:20 AM
20	Wonderful being with like minded people + meeting those with same problems. Able to make mistakes + not feel foolish - being part of a group + project	11/20/2017 10:19 AM
21	To feel proud of what I have done + achieved	11/20/2017 10:18 AM
22	To be able to have an end project which will make people stop consider what sight loss can mean. Before I lost my sight, I had no idea or understanding of how what it meant to be visually impaired. I hope that this project will broaden understanding in a similar way, for other people whilst experiencing the sculpture	11/20/2017 10:17 AM
23	To be able to go to Hull, with my mum, and show her something which I can say: I was a part of that, we all made that together.	11/20/2017 10:14 AM
24	Being proud of the end result. That more people from this project will join the regular SDV craft group and continue with similar work.	11/20/2017 10:13 AM

25	For children to come to the hospital and go: "WOW!!!" when they see the sculpture. For it to be there for the children who may be having treatment or have something wrong with their eyes. The sculpture will provide wonderment and encouragement.	11/20/2017 10:12 AM
26	- Smiling faces, good comments - I am part of it. Art is part of me. - There will be something there, something live, for people to see or touch. - To have learnt new skills.	11/20/2017 10:10 AM
27	A bit of my inspiration, to say that this project is 'a bit of me', 'The new me'. A Representation of moving forward.	11/20/2017 10:07 AM
28	For me it is about having the opportunity to work with my hands and learn new skills. It is also about working with people and being involved in something new.	11/20/2017 10:05 AM
29	It is about us all completing the project and having enjoyed ourselves, taken part and worked together	11/20/2017 10:04 AM
30	For me it is happiness. Going from being stuck at home and on my own to coming out and meeting new people and trying new things. I want that to continue	11/20/2017 10:02 AM
