WELCOME TO THIS SURVEY

Many thanks for sparing the time to complete this survey today. It's really important that you complete the survey in full, so please continue until the point you see the button 'Done', which marks the survey end.

Introduction to the Researcher

I'm Abi, and I've been commissioned as a Freelance Researcher by Hull 2017 and their official academic research partner, the University of Hull, to undertake a project evaluation of Back to Ours. Integral to this evaluation is consultation with delivery partners. This includes understanding how you feel the process has gone for the first year, how your involvement in the process has impacted on you and your organisation, and informing future planning for the festival in 20178 and beyond.

Purpose of the Survey

The answers you provide will help Hull 2017 (and its future company) and Creative People and Places measure their performance, and identify where they needs to adapt and improve; learning from your experiences to inform how future Back to Ours festivals and other projects are delivered. Your answers will also enable them to provide evidence to the funders that have made these projects possible, showing the difference they make to those involved in delivery.

Some of the questions are straightforward multiple choice style questions, whilst others are open questions that ask for a fuller response.

Confidentiality

Please be assured that all your answers will remain completely anonymous and be treated with the strictest confidence. Hull 2017 and all their evaluation partners adhere to the Market Research Society's Code of Conduct and follow the data protection principles set out in the Data Protection Act 1998.

It's therefore really important that you give us honest feedback, whether positive or negative, in order that we can give as true a representation as possible of your experience.
